

Scout Program Management and Constraints

Karen McBride
Scout Program Executive
January 25, 2007

Changes made since the meeting are highlighted in this color

Phase A Overview

- Selected Full Mission teams will conduct 9-month Phase A Concept Study, funded up to $2M (FY07 dollars)
- At the end of the Concept Studies, NASA will conduct detailed evaluations of the concept study reports.
- As a result of this Phase A evaluation, one Scout Mission investigation, may be selected for continuation to Phase B.
- Intent is to complete Phase A evaluation and selection on a timeline which allows Phase B to begin by January 2008.

Phase A Kickoff Meeting

- Purpose of this meeting is to provide instructions for the Phase A Concept Study.
- Phase A Study deliverables:
 - Concept Study Report providing sufficient implementation detail and planning to allow NASA to fully judge probability of mission success, including
 - Priced Proposal for Phase B to allow quick negotiation during 3 month bridge period.
